Dear Clive

I am writing to express my absolute delight in the new ozone system recently installed in our laundry plant in Johannesburg.

You will understand that heating, water and power in general form a substantial element of our costs when running a commercial laundry. Furthermore, the clients are becoming evermore demanding for fast turnaround times and, for Majestic, we are able to achieve all this and more without compromising in the slightest on our high standards of cleaning and finishing.

I am therefore able to recommend with confidence and enthusiasm that for similar businesses to go the ozone route, they would likely reap the same excellent benefits in terms of cost savings in utilities and staff, and quality and speed of finishing.

You are always welcome to use my plant and its ozone system as a marketing tool.

With kindest regards

Kevin Marshall
